Topic- Experience of college life and professional Life

Huge crowd of new aspirants accumulated at the seminar hall for getting to know the experienced gained by their seniors from the campus as well as their work life. Great excitement was found among the students while interacting with the seniors so as to know what they felt spending two years in the campus and how their life is going to turn up in the forthcoming years.

Alumni's were from different specialization i.e., marketing, finance, and Human Resource. All being from different domains were able to express their experience into different segments which created an unexpected excitement among the juniors which might help them to aspire for choosing different expertise areas.

The intelligent seniors shared how the real life is outside the campus and how each individual has to go through the different challenges once step out of the boundary. The importance of attending the regular lecture was also told to them which will ultimately help them to enhance their knowledge and skills when working with the corporates.

The audience was guided in different sphere as what they are currently doing and what they can do in their next phase of life. It was a wonderful interaction between the seniors and the juniors which embedded a seed of knowledge among the freshers.
